Academic Year 2010-2011

Dear CCA Parents,

For some of you I am a familiar voice, for the rest let me introduce myself a bit. I used to teach 4th grade at CCA up until April 2007 when I had my son. I've been able to spend my time, since then, raising him at home.

Two years ago God brought me back to CCA as Quest Coordinator. I have loved being back in the CCA family. I love making make Quest enjoyable and eventful, but a time for your child to relax and have fun after a hard day's work.

Here is a layout of what our daily routine may look like:

3:00-4:00 snack and homework time

4:00-5:00 activity time; there will always be the option to participate in a daily craft

I've already begun to map out what activities I'd like to see your child involved in. These activities are designed to enhance what your child is learning in school. A lot of these projects will be just fun and creative! Your child will come home with so many "look-what-I-made" things. Your child doesn't have to participate in the craft; there will be games and other activities going on. And of course your child will have the time and space to complete homework or just sit in a comfy corner and read.

Please register your child(ren) at the beginning of the year using the Quest Registration Form – one per student. Bring in the form(s) on the first day of school if possible. We will need a form in hand for your child to stay.

If you want to know how you can help make a strong Quest program, one way is to VOLUNTEER your time. We need amazing parents like you to come and help supervise and interact with our students so we can have various activities going on simultaneously. Volunteers are only needed from 4:00-5:30.

I am excited to be facilitating Quest again this year! I hope it will be just what your child needs to wind down from a busy day at school.

Thank you so much,

Kari Jasus
